IMPORTANT MESSAGE REGARDING LIQUOR LAW TRAINING FROM THE DIRECTOR

The Arizona Department of Liquor Licenses and Control (DLLC) is aware there may be misinformation circulating throughout the industry regarding liquor law training in Arizona. We would greatly appreciate your help in communicating the following information to industry stakeholders within your reach.

DLLC is now developing new standards for liquor law training for Arizona. Sometime in 2009 these new standards will be finalized and implemented throughout the state. Until that time, training requirements have not changed and will remain as they are currently written in Title 4 (<http://www.azliquor.gov/laws.asp>).

As stated in my letter dated July 10, 2008:

Once the new Title 4 liquor law training requirements and compliance deadlines are finalized, licensees and DLLC-approved liquor law training course providers will be notified via U.S. mail. All new liquor law training requirements and compliance deadlines will be posted on the DLLC website homepage and in most Arizona liquor industry publications and newsletters.

In the meantime, please review A.R.S. §4-112 (G)(2) Powers and duties of board and director of Department of Liquor Licenses and Control; investigations; county and municipal regulation, the current rule R19-1-304 Standards for Alcohol Training Programs, and the newly proposed rules R19-1-106 Liquor law Training Course: Minimum Standards, R19-1-216 Application for Approval of a Liquor Law Training Course and R19-1-302 Knowledge of Liquor Law, on our website at www.azliquor.gov.

If you have questions regarding new liquor law training standards in Arizona, please call or email Lee Hill at 602-36401936 or lee.hill@azliquor.gov.

Sincerely,

Jerry A. Oliver Sr.
